

Airport Substation Breaker Causes Power Outage

Thursday, 08 October 2009

Jay Barrett/KMXT

The Airport

Substation continues to cause problems for Kodiak Electric customers out at the Coast Guard Base, Aviation Hill, Bells Flats and beyond.

Another

breaker failure at the substation plunged the customers into darkness at about 10 p.m. last night. Kodiak Electric says power was finally restored to all customers by about 1 this morning.

The

infrastructure at the Airport Substation is a regular source of frustration for residents beyond that point, as it trips off several times a year.