

Cruiseship Brings Former Residents Back After 40 Years

Monday, 23 June 2008

{audio}/images/stories/mp3/080323.nancy_kaiser_2way.mp3{/audio}

Jay Barrett/KMXT

When the cruise ship Tahitian Princess pulled into port Friday morning, some of its passengers felt like they were stepping back in time. One of them was Nancy Kaiser who was a young Navy wife living at Lake Louise from 1963 to 1965. She talked with KMXT's Jay Barrett about what it was like in Kodiak on Good Friday in 1964.