From KMXT in Kodiak, this is the Alaska Fisheries Report. Coming up this week…

Managers
are testing the waters for a St. Matthew Island blue king crab fishery.

Unalaska’s
small commercial pink salmon fishery opens, while there are more hard times for the Kodiak fleet.

And
Wrangell Seafoods gets more bad news from its creditors.

Those
stories and more coming up on this week’s Alaska Fisheries Report.

Thanks
for joining us.
