

Local Governing Bodies on Holiday Schedule

Thursday, 15 November 2012

As we push into the holiday season local government groups start reshuffling the meeting schedule.

For instance, tonight's (Thursday) regular meeting of the Kodiak Island Borough Assembly has been cancelled.

The next scheduled assembly event is a work session, which is set for two weeks from today, on Nov. 29.

Over on the city side, the next scheduled city council event is a work session on Tuesday December 11 and a regular meeting set for Thursday the 13th.

Of course, all of this is subject to change.

But we do know that tonight's regular borough assembly meeting has been cancelled.
