

New Childrens Book for Bear Country

Friday, 16 November 2012

{audio}/images/stories/mp3/121116.studebaker_bear_book.mp3{/audio}

Maggie Wall/KMXT

Who doesn't love a good bear story? Kodiak residents learn early how to live and play in bear territory. Soon a new book directed toward children and their book-reading parents will teach children about bears and about the importance of being bear aware.

KMXT's Maggie Wall spoke with author Stacy Studebaker about her newest book.

You can hear the entire half-hour-long interview with Studebaker and Maggie on Tuesday's "Talk of the Rock" beginning at 12:30 p.m. right after the Midday Report.