The Kodiak High School cross country team split with Anchorage's Grace Christian School late on Friday in the last home meet of the season. The Kodiak boys won with 21 points to Grace's 37. The Grizzlies pretty much turned that around on the Bears, winning the girls varsity race 24 to 35.

The next test for the Bears is this weekend at the Region Championships, to be held on the Tsalteshi Trails in Soldotna.

Sam Salus and Trevor Dunbar were one-two in the boys' race, finishing in 16-minutes 22-seconds and 23-seconds respectively. Leif Karlberg of Grace was third, 21-seconds behind, just ahead of Kodiak's Dylan Anthony. Grace's Jacob Kirk rounded out the top five. Kodiak also won the boys' junior varsity race.

In the girls' race, Chloe Ivanoff cruised to a comfortable 29-second win with a time of 20-minutes 2-seconds. Grace's Mariah Applegate was second, with Kodiak's Jaymi Bethea third. Holly Kopp and Marjie Dupea from Grace were fourth and fifth. Grace also took the girls JV race.

Coach Marcus Dunbar said in an e-mail that 21 Kodiak boys had times under 20 minutes.
