Kodiak author Lesley Leyland Fields recently sent her ninth book off to the publisher.

This one deals with forgiveness — especially forgiveness among family members.

Fields recently spoke with KMXT’s Maggie Wall about her writing and her books, none of which she says has come easily, perhaps because she’s not afraid to tackle tough issues.

You can hear the complete interview with Fields on this week’s Talk of the Rock program which airs today (Tuesday) at 12:30 p.m.
