This weekend hundreds of Kodiak High Schoolers will suite up in their most formal attire and flood the Kodiak Harbor Convention Center for Prom 2013. The junior class usually hosts the event, which typically serves as a last hurrah for seniors. And while every prom is different, many things, like getting the right dress and making reservations for your pre-dance dinner, are fairly universal. KMXT's Brianna Gibbs caught up with some local girls and asked them about prom, which will be held Saturday.
