Coming up this week, chum bycatch is high early in the Bering sea; In Bristol Bay, even though the run didn't meet expectations, prices are up for sockeye; a whole bunch of scientists put their minds to work on the Gulf of Alaska, and a commentary – yes, we have those – from Brian Lynch of the Petersburg Vessel Owners Association. We couldn't have gotten the show done without the help this week from KUCB's Lauren Rosenthal in Unalaska, CoastAlaska's Ed Schoenfeld in Juneau and KDLG's Mike Mason in Dillingham.
