Despite knowing full well that paper-craft, scrapbooking and stamping can be addictive, Maggie Wall recently took it up. She was able to tear herself away from the glue and glitter long enough to file this report for us.

If you've ever been around someone who is totally jazzed about stamping and papercraft, you know it's hard to get them to quit talking about it.

One day about 10 years ago, Sherie Looman very innocently went to a stamping and scrapbooking party. She got hooked....or should I say stuck on this creative art that requires no drawing skills....

CUT....

Looman
works at The Craft Garden, a stamping, papercrafting, scrapbooking shop located near the Y. Jana Mays is another long-time papercrafter who works at The Craft Garden. She says the opportunities for creativity are limitless, though many people focus on preserving memories for their kids...

CUT

Looman says
papercrafting and stamping loads of fun...but watch out...

For KMXT
News, I'm Maggie Wall

ENDS.....with listing of things....preserves memories."
